

Here We Sit

By L. Don Swartz

Performance Rights

It is an infringement of the federal copyright law to copy this script in any way or to perform this play without royalty payment. All rights are controlled by Eldridge Publishing Co. Inc. Call the publisher for additional scripts and further licensing information. The author's name must appear on all programs and advertising with the notice: "Produced by special arrangements with Eldridge Publishing Co."

ELDRIDGE PUBLISHING COMPANY

www.histage.com

© 2006 by L. Don Swartz

Download your complete script from Eldridge Publishing

<https://histage.com/here-we-sit>

Here We Sit

- 2 -

DEDICATION

To Michael Thomas for keeping me young and lots of other reasons. - Love, Dada

STORY OF THE PLAY

"Here We Sit" is an outrageous comedy that puts the audience on the hot seat through a series of sixteen, quick-paced scenes, all illuminating the joys and tribulations of the modern theatre-going experience. In "An Audience of One," a single theatre patron delivers an impassioned monologue to convince the actors to perform the show just for her. The scene, "What the Crowd Is Thinking," allows us to hear the real thoughts of an audience sitting through an uninspired performance. In "Uber Ushers," a band of ushers, driven to the brink of madness by the boorish behavior of an audience, stages a ferocious uprising to reclaim their theatre.

The scenes are propelled by two feisty old ladies, Lottie and Bernice, who keep popping up to express their contempt for the theatre. Having been given free tickets, the two outrageous seniors turn the theatre upside-down with their constant talking and their non-stop snacking from enormous purses stuffed with groceries and candy, wrapped in crinkling paper, of course!

The comedy's ultimate conclusion is that the actors and audience desperately need one another and that this timeless dance we do, as crazy as it can be sometimes, will go on.

ORIGINAL PRODUCTION

World premiere cast, May 4, 2006, Ghostlight Theatre, North Tonawanda, New York.

Lottie: Joann V. Mis
Bernice: Debby Koszelak Swartz
Actor One: Jesse Swartz
Actor Two: Lauren Aquilina
Actor Three: Don Swartz
Actor Four: Mollie McDermott
Actor Five: Charlie D. Hahn
Actor Six: Pat Faulhaber
Actor Seven: Sharon Priest
Actor Eight: Paul McGinnis
Actor Nine: Sarah Averill
Actor Ten: Chris Fire
Actor Eleven: Vanessa Stipkovits
Actor Twelve: Joy Ann Wrona

CAST OF CHARACTERS

(5 m and 9 w)

MEN

1. Announcer, Actor Ten, John, Flannel Shirt, Uber-Usher #2, Acrobat, Usher.
2. Actor One, Tall Man, Michael, Assistant Director, Uber-Usher #1, Box Office Manager, White.
3. Actor Three, the Man, Blank Slate, Director, Sneezer, Cover.
4. Actor Five, Well-Dressed Man, the Sleeper, He-Talker, House Manager, Duddy, Maurice.
5. Actor Eight, Wide Man, Scientist, Gurgles, Fish Fry, Brave Husband, Braun, Bender.

WOMEN

1. Lottie.
2. Bernice.
3. Actor Two, Young Mother with Baby, Intern, Uber-Usher #4, The Screamer, Sky.
4. Actor Four, Big Coat #2, Sour Grapes, Fast Wife, Usher, Prone, Frump.
5. Actor Six, Mom, Cough Drop, Launch, Aunt Edna.
6. Actor Seven, Strange Lady, Big Hat, She-Talker, Fuddy, Gray.
7. Actor Nine, Pretty Girl, Bored Member, Sinister Voice, Fan, Vapours, Tweed.
8. Actor Eleven, Artsy Woman, Debby, Nice Dress, Colleen, Uber-Usher #3, Rage, Mrs. Brown.
9. Actor Twelve, Big Coat #1, Jingles, Young Woman, Emily, Duck.

SYNOPSIS OF SCENES

ACT I

Scene 1: Dueling Audiences

Announcer, Actors 1-12

Scene 2: The Art of Picking Your Seat

Usher, Man, Tall Man, Wide Man, 2 Ladies with Big Coats, Young Mother, Pretty Girl, Strange Lady, Well-Dressed Man, Artsy Woman

Scene 3: The Curse of the Free Tickets

Lottie, Bernice, Audience

Scene 4: Second Choice

Michael, John

Scene 5: Glass Eyes: "O Fortuna!"

Actors 1-12

Scene 6: Research Says...

Scientist, Audience, Usher

Scene 7: Actor Meltdown

Audience, Woman opening a cough drop, Debby

Scene 8: What the Crowd Is Thinking

Assistant Director, Intern, Sleeper, Blank Slate, Nice Dress, Flannel Shirt, Big Hat, Gurgles, Jingles, Mom, Bored Member, Sour Grapes

Scene 9: Surviving Act I

Lottie, Bernice

ACT II

Scene 1: Surviving Intermission

Announcer, Lottie, Bernice

Scene 2: Director Meltdown

Director, Colleen, Father

Scene 3: Uber-Ushers

4 Ushers, Cough Drop, Fan, He-Talker, She-Talker, Sneezer, Young Woman, Brave Husband, Fast Wife

Here We Sit

- 5 -

SYNOPSIS OF SCENES – Continued

Scene 4: An Audience of One

Usher, Emily, House Manager, Other Actors

Scene 5: Sorry, No Refunds

Manager, Launch, Duck, Cover, Fuddy, Duddy, Vapours, Braun, Prone, Rage, Scream, Acrobat

Scene 6: Open Forum

Mrs. Brown, Tweed, Frump, Aunt Edna, Maurice, Bender, Gray, Sky, White, Usher

Scene 7: Trapped Like Rats

Lottie, Bernice

Curtain Call

Notes from the Playwright

In our original production, we were all amazed how hard the audience laughed at the very first scene. We played it kinda-Beckett, and my intent was to scare them a little...and they saw right through my bluff and laughed right through it.

In Scene 5, the recording "O, Fortuna," played 3 minutes. It has to be the most mentioned piece. High school and college patrons loved it and giggled all the way through it. Patrons of a certain age were baffled by it, and were disturbed by the lack of narrative. Ultimately, the scene is a prank in the Monty Python tradition and possibly the most cutting commentary we make about our audience the whole night. (Some nights we feel we'd be better off playing to a house of stuffed animals!) The fact that the targeted audience didn't get it made it all the more irresistible to the company. My response finally became: 20 years from now, it will be the only scene you remember. No matter who questioned me about it, and I'm still getting questions, I made a game of refusing to explain it to them. I guarantee the high school kids who hopefully will be in this some day will love the scene. Their parents? If they like absurd humor and are Monty Python fans, they will enjoy it. If not, all bets are off. And that not-knowing...was wonderful!

I was very pleased with the audiences' acceptance of the very Polish Lottie and Bernice. An African-American woman told me they WERE her grandmother and aunt, and we got a letter from a high school student who said her favorite part was the Russian ladies. We have a large Polish population in Western New York where I live, and they play very well here, but I just know they will play in the heartland also. I was very careful to make them real people. Smart and no nonsense, and no stereotype, and the audiences embraced them.

This play grew out of little scenes I started writing 15 years ago. I knew some day I would have enough material to tie them into a play.

End of Freeview

Download your complete script from Eldridge Publishing

<https://histage.com/here-we-sit>

Eldridge Publishing, a leading drama play publisher since 1906, offers more than a thousand full-length plays, one-act plays, melodramas, holiday plays, religious plays, children's theatre plays and musicals of all kinds.

For more than a hundred years, our family-owned business has had the privilege of publishing some of the finest playwrights, allowing their work to come alive on stages worldwide.

We look forward to being a part of your next theatrical production.

Eldridge Publishing... for the start of your theatre experience!